- Structural Elements: Various columns and beams are indicated, with dimensions and material specifications provided for each.
- Dimensions and Specifications: Numerous numerical values are scattered throughout the plan, indicating dimensions and material properties.

PLANCHER HAUT R+2

The architectural drawing shows a detailed floor plan of a building's first floor. It includes numerous rooms, each labeled with its function in French, such as 'Salle de réunion' (Meeting Room), 'Bureau' (Office), 'Cuisine' (Kitchen), 'Salon' (Living Room), 'Chambre' (Bedroom), 'Salle de bain' (Bathroom), 'Vestibule' (Entrance Hall), 'Corridor', 'Staircase', and 'Garage'. The plan also depicts the placement of various pieces of furniture, including desks, chairs, sofas, beds, and kitchen appliances. Technical notes are scattered throughout, indicating existing lighting conditions ('Eclairage existant à 20cm totale') and proposed lighting solutions ('Eclairage par trois obus'). A series of numbered points along the bottom edge, from P101 to P186, likely represent specific lighting or measurement locations. The overall layout is complex, with multiple interconnected spaces and a central corridor system.
