

The aerial map shows a study area with three labeled sites: A, B, and C. Site A is a rectangular area on the right. Site B is a rectangular area in the center. Site C is a rectangular area on the left. The sites are separated by a road or path. To the right of the sites is a large parking lot with many spaces. To the left of the sites is a road and some other buildings. A river or stream is visible at the bottom of the map. A north arrow is located in the bottom right corner.