In agreement with the Contracting Authority, the Data Controller shall promptly implement all appropriate measures to prevent any further Data Breach.

The notification of Data Breaches to the Contracting Authority by the Data Controller and their management are an integral part of the Services and will not give rise to additional invoicing. In the event that information to the persons concerned proves necessary, this communication will be carried out according to a schedule and content determined by the Contracting Authority (where applicable in consultation with the competent supervisory authority).

Power of instruction of the Contracting Authority

The Contracting Authority has extensive rights to give all instructions, in particular as regards the nature, importance and methods of processing the Data. At the end of his mission, the Data Controller must, at the choice of the Contracting Authority, either hand over to the Contracting Authority the Data in its possession or delete them immediately and entirely, subject to the application of legal provisions preventing the complete deletion of Data. The same applies to copies for automatic backup purposes.

The Holder must provide the Contracting Authority with all necessary assistance to enable it to comply with these requests within the legal deadlines.

Formalities

The Data Controller shall collaborate with the Contracting Authority and provide it with all necessary information so that it can establish and update the list of automated processing provided for in Article 47 of the Decree of 20 October 2005 or, more broadly, carry out all necessary formalities prior to the implementation of the processing, including impact assessments, requests for authorization or prior consultation with the CNIL.

Proof of compliance of the treatment

The Data Controller undertakes to keep and make available to the Contracting Authority all useful documentation proving that the processing of the Data carried out by the Data Controller on behalf of the Contracting Authority has been implemented in accordance with the commitments made under the Contract as well as any specific instructions from the Contracting Authority.

The Holder undertakes to retain said documentation, beyond the end of the Contract, until the end of the applicable limitation period during which the Contracting Authority's liability may be incurred due to the conditions and procedures for implementing the processing of Data by the Data Controller. The Holder may nevertheless free himself in anticipation of this obligation by handing over said documentation to the Contracting Authority at the end of the Contract.

Management of the Contracting Authority's suppliers

As part of the administrative management of its suppliers, the Contracting Authority implements a processing of personal data likely to concern the staff of the Holder, which therefore has, in application of the Data Protection and Freedoms Act, a right of access, rectification and opposition. These rights are exercised directly with the AFD Group's Data Protection and Freedoms Correspondent, notably by email at the following address: informatique.libertes@afd.fr.

Also, the contracting authority reserves the right to carry out so-called individual audits and penetration tests at the provider's premises in order to evaluate the effectiveness of the measures and processes implemented in terms of cybersecurity and internal ICT security.

In the event of subcontracting, duly authorised by the contracting authority, the service provider shall ensure that the subcontractor grants the contracting authority and the ACPR the same contractual rights of access and audit as those granted by the service provider.

This audit may be carried out at any time at the discretion of the Contracting Authority, including once the contract has been completed, within a limit of five (5) years.

In this respect, the Contracting Authority may appoint an independent expert who is not a competitor of the Holder and must sign a confidentiality agreement.

The Holder undertakes to collaborate with the Contracting Authority or its representative and with the ACPR and to facilitate their audit by providing them with all the necessary information and responding to all of their requests related to this audit, within the authorized limits of the control listed at the beginning of this article. In the event that their requests exceed these contractual limits of the authorized audit, the Holder will alert the Contracting Authority. The holder establishes that no assignment or pledge of claims resulting from the public contract prevent direct payment to the subcontractor, under the conditions provided for in Article R. 2193-22 or Article R. 2393-40 of the Code of public procurement.

As a result, the holder produces with the DC4:

This justification is given by a certificate or release from the beneficiary of the assignment or pledge of claims resulting from the contract which is attached to this document.

Refers to a connection that gives remote access to the Client's information system from an infrastructure that does not belong to it.

General

The Client regularly uses service providers, who are required to have access to the Information as part of the performance of their services. It is therefore necessary to regulate these accesses to the Information as well as their use and to define the security rules applicable to the providers.

The purpose of this appendix is to secure the conditions for access to and use of the Information, in particular by defining the criteria for granting the Service Provider secure and controlled access to the Information and preventing it from being used without authorization.

The stipulations of this Annex apply to the Service Provider, employees and subcontractors who have or may have access to the Information.

Commitment and rights of the parties regarding security

The Client makes available to the Service Provider its documentation on Information Security (policies, procedures and rules) necessary for the execution of the contract. The Service Provider undertakes to take note of the documentation provided by the Client in terms of Information Security and to comply with the policies, procedures and rules contained therein. The Service Provider undertakes not to disclose this documentation transmitted as part of the execution of the Contract.

The Service Provider undertakes to subject its staff and subcontractors working on its behalf to security checks and must be able to provide evidence as to the methods and results of these checks.

The Service Provider undertakes to maintain a list of individuals authorized to use on its behalf the access and logistical services provided by the Client.

The Service Provider undertakes to inform the Client in writing, and as soon as possible, of any change made in the list provided for in the paragraph above and to propose to him any change it deems necessary regarding the nature or scope of access to the Information. It is up to the Client to formally notify the Service Provider of their agreement on the requested changes. Without this formal agreement, the change is deemed to be refused.

The Service Provider undertakes to respect the intellectual property rights relating to the information and software made available to it by the Client.

The Service Provider is informed that the Client handles information pertaining to professional banking secrecy within the meaning of the monetary and financial code. The Service Provider undertakes to respect the confidentiality of the client's information as part of professional secrecy governing their profession.

The Client and the Service Provider are each responsible for the selection, implementation and maintenance of their own procedures and security policies as well as their suitability for the services to be carried out under the Contract. This is intended to protect their respective information from unauthorized access, alteration or destruction.

As part of the implementation of its security policy and procedures, the Client has the right to record and supervise any activity carried out by the Service Provider in execution of the Contract. In this respect, the Service Provider's staff and its subcontractors are subject to the same controls as the Client's staff.

The Client may require the Service Provider to provide a copy of the identity document of its employees in charge of carrying out the services provided for by the Contract before access to the sites and/or Client Information is granted to them.

The Client reserves the right to refuse without notice access to any employee of the Service Provider or to require the replacement of such employee if he does not comply with the policies, procedures and safety rules.

Access control

The Service Provider undertakes to only access the Information strictly necessary for the performance of its mission. Access to the Information, services and infrastructure granted to the Provider is limited to the minimum necessary for the performance of its services under the Contract. The Service Provider will inform the Client as soon as possible if he notices an error in the allocation of access prohibiting him from fulfilling his mission or exceeding the scope of his mission.

Access to the computer system and/or the Client's premises are issued in a nominative manner to persons acting for the Service Provider within the framework of the execution of the Contract.

Accesses can be permanently subjected to protection mechanisms and logged. For the purposes of protecting and controlling access to its Information, the Client does not limit itself to the protection mechanisms implemented by the Service Provider. The Client grants, controls and revokes the Service Provider's access to the premises and the Information necessary for performing the services. In this regard, the Service Provider is informed that its staff acting within the framework of the contract may, at any time and without prior notification, be subject to security checks based on the traces recorded on the Client's IT system.

If it is necessary to provide access to Classified Information of level

"CONFIDENTIAL" or higher level or at Customer premises where such information is stored, processed or disseminated, a risk assessment to identify the protection mechanisms to be implemented will be carried out. The protection mechanisms identified during the risk assessment will be notified to the Provider, documented and implemented.

To access the Client's information system, the Service Provider must exclusively use the computer equipment provided by the Client, unless the latter has previously authorized the Service Provider in writing to use other methods of access.

Remote connection to the client's network

Any remote connection to the Client's network must be made through computer equipment or an access portal provided to the Service Provider by the Client. The Customer may, without prior notice or justification, interrupt, refuse or expand a remote connection to his network. The Client disconnects the remote network connection when it is no longer required.

The remote connection to the Client's network is permanently logged and archived for memory.

Risk assessment

Upon the Client's decision, the service may be subject to an evaluation in order to determine the risks regarding the security of the Information. This evaluation mainly concerns the potential benefits for the Client of any breach in the availability, integrity, confidentiality and the chain of transmission of its Information used within the framework of the service.

Final provisions

Non-compliance with this safety appendix constitutes a breach of the Contract that can justify its termination without penalty for the Client.

In addition, a delay or postponement resulting from the Service Provider's non-compliance with safety rules and the measures taken by the Client to remedy it, pursuant to this Annex, cannot be invoked by the Service Provider to request any extension of the deadlines for performance of the Contract, which the Service Provider remains bound by, or any exemption from penalties.

This security appendix may be reviewed by the Client every year and modified if necessary without penalty or additional cost.
