This architectural section drawing illustrates the facade of a building, showing structural details and elevation points. The drawing includes a central section with a yellow-shaded area, likely representing a staircase or a specific structural element. The facade is composed of brickwork and features several windows and doors. Elevation points are marked with black circles and numerical values, indicating the height of various elements relative to a datum. The drawing also shows a roofline with a red railing and a blue line indicating a level. The text 'R+1 NGF : 37.63' and 'RDC NGF : 34.40' is present, indicating the ground levels for the first and ground floors respectively.

Key elevation points and structural details include:

- Roofline: 41.31, 40.25, 39.45, 41.07, 41.31, 41.07
